2. GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE BUSINESS

2.1. THREE-YEAR HISTORY

On January 10, 2022, the American telecommunications segment announced a full rebrand, changing its operating name to Breezeline (formerly Atlantic Broadband). The name change reflects the segment's commitment to an easy and convenient customer experience, while better representing the segment's geographic reach and full product breadth.

Breezeline continued to expand its activities in the United States in the last three years by completing on September 1, 2021, the acquisition of the broadband systems of WideOpenWest, Inc. ("WOW!") located in Ohio ("Ohio broadband systems") for a purchase price of US$1.125 billion, subject to customary post-closing adjustments and by completing on March 10, 2020, the acquisition of Thames Valley Communications Inc., a broadband services company operating in Southeastern Connecticut, for a net consideration of US$50 million.

Cogeco Connexion also expanded its activities in Canada in the last two years, by completing on December 14, 2020 the acquisition of DERYtelecom, the third largest cable operator in the province of Québec, for a purchase price of $403 million, subject to customary post-closing adjustments. This acquisition enabled Cogeco Connexion to expand its activities in more than 200 municipalities in Québec and added approximately 100,000 customers to its customer base.

Following the 3500 MHz band auction held by Innovation, Science and Economic Development ("ISED") Canada which ended on July 23, 2021, Cogeco Connexion acquired 38 spectrum licences, for a total purchase price of $295 million, of which $205 million was to acquire 30 MHz of spectrum in the Greater Toronto area, a region which represents approximately 33% of the Corporation's broadband footprint in Ontario. The balance of the spectrum licences covers several other Ontario regions, as well as the region of Trois-Rivières in Québec. With these spectrum holdings and previously acquired licences, Cogeco Connexion holds spectrum covering approximately 91% of its broadband footprint, representing a population of 3.6 million Canadians.

As part of its plan to pursue its growth and to extend its high-speed Internet coverage and to provide Internet access in underserved and unserved areas, the Corporation continued during fiscal 2022 the acceleration of its high-speed Internet network expansion projects in both Canada and the United States, in collaboration with governments from both countries. During fiscal 2022, Internet network expansion projects added 70,000 homes passed in total in Canada and the United States.

In Canada, over the past years, Cogeco Connexion announced investments in several high-speed Internet network expansion projects in Québec and Ontario. In addition to the 13 high-speed Internet network expansion projects in several regions of Québec announced last year, Cogeco Communications announced in August 2022 that Cogeco Connexion will carry out six new high-speed Internet network expansion projects in several regions of Ontario as part of the Ontario's Accelerated High Speed Internet Program (AHSIP), which will benefit 37 municipalities and will connect over 13,800 homes and businesses. These digital infrastructure investment projects are scheduled to be completed by the end of calendar year 2025. Overall network expansion projects, including those in unserved or underserved areas in collaboration with the provincial and federal governments of Ontario and Québec, should add over 150,000 homes to the Canadian network. This equates to an 8% increase in Canadian homes passed, with 2% already added in fiscal 2022, and a 3% increase expected in fiscal 2023, 1% in fiscal 2024 and 2% in fiscal 2025. The Corporation is aiming to achieve a customer penetration rate of 50% over the three years following the construction of each project.

In the United States, Breezeline continued its geographical fibre-to-the-home network expansion in adjacent cities with attractive demographic and economic growth, including those recently announced in multiple communities in New Hampshire and West Virginia. Overall, networks expansion projects should add over 110,000 homes to the U.S. network, with 2% homes passed already added in fiscal 2022 and 5% expected in fiscal 2023. The Corporation is aiming to achieve a customer penetration rate of 36% over the three years following the construction of each project.

2.2. SIGNIFICANT ACQUISITION

No significant acquisition was made in the last three years.

3. DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS

The Corporation, which provides leadership to the operating companies, has two operating segments that are reportable segments: the Canadian telecommunications segment ("Cogeco Connexion") and the American telecommunications segment ("Breezeline"). These segments, previously named "broadband services segments", were renamed "telecommunications segments" in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2022. Other than the name change, no changes were made to the segments' composition. The reporting structure reflects how the Corporation manages its business activities to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segments and to assess their performance.

The activities of Cogeco Connexion are carried out in the provinces of Québec and Ontario, Canada.

The activities of Breezeline are carried out in the United States in 13 states: Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia.

The activities of Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline are similar in nature and have been combined for ease of reference for the reader in this Section 3.

Customers can also add many calling features to their home phone package. All Cogeco Connexion residential phone service customers have access to international long distance plans.

Breezeline's residential phone service features include: unlimited long-distance calling throughout the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico, the ability to keep the customers' existing telephone number where local number portability is supported, the ability to access enhanced Emergency 911 dialing and the ability to use existing telephones and in-house wiring. The service also includes voicemail and fifteen other popular custom calling features such as calling line ID.

Service Bundles

As of August 31, 2022, 66% and 36% of Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline customers, respectively, subscribed to "double play" and "triple play" bundle services.

3.2.2. BUSINESS SERVICES

Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline offer video, Internet and phone services to businesses across their service areas.

Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline offers a wide range of general and dedicated broadband Internet packages with speeds up to 10 Gbps on the downstream and up to 1 Gbps on the upstream. These Internet services are often sold in solution packages with business phone lines, long distance, managed WiFi, toll free, security and video services.

Cogeco Connexion also provides IP based phone services and other advanced network connectivity services delivered over fibre optic connection to larger businesses in its footprint. Network connectivity services are offered in point-to-point or point-to-multipoint configurations resulting in highly scalable and secure services. Fibre circuits are used to offer dedicated high speed connectivity (including greater than 1 Gbps symmetrical) and advanced voice services to larger businesses in the form of session initiation protocol ("SIP") or primary rate interface ("PRI") trunks. Services over fibre are ideal for businesses with 50 or more employees and multiple locations requiring private, secure and interconnected networks that support sophisticated data and voice applications and services either on premise or in the cloud.

Cogeco Connexion's and Breezeline's commercial phone service offers commercial customers multiple line capability, and is often bundled with the Internet service. Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline offer a voice over IP ("VoIP")-based PRI and a hosted PBX service for their commercial customers and Breezeline offers 4G LTE HSD Backup Service as a failover solution for its small business Internet customers. Breezeline has enhanced its Metro-Ethernet service offering with standardized solutions and speeds that scale up to 10 Gbps, including multiprotocol label switching (MPLS), based on customer needs. Breezeline also opportunistically pursues large business, carrier and corporate customers located within its network footprint requiring wide area networks, point-to-point or point-to-multipoint data services and virtual private networks. These services are offered where Breezeline has excess fibre capacity on its network and where the contract with the customer provides an adequate return on investment.

3.3. NETWORKS AND INFRASTRUCTURE

Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline provide residential Internet, video and phone services and business services through advanced fibre optic and two-way telecommunications distribution networks. Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline deliver these services through their own long distance fibre optic systems, advanced hybrid fibre-coaxial ("HFC") telecommunications distribution networks, point-to-point fibre networks and fibre-to-the-home ("FTTH") network technologies.

Cogeco Connexion's distribution network covers a large territory from Western Ontario to Eastern Québec. Breezeline's distribution network covers 13 states along the East Coast of the United States, from Maine to Florida, as well as Pennsylvania and Ohio. Each of Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline's core transport networks have a broad reach and are designed to easily interconnect, at very high speed, their many local distribution systems to video content providers, other public phone networks, software application providers and the Internet.

For residential services, Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline are constantly densifying optical fibres to nodes serving small clusters of homes passed, with multiple fibres per node in most cases, to rapidly increase speed and capacity of the system when necessary. This "just in time" process, known as "node splitting", leads to further improve the quality and reliability while increasing the capacity of two-way services such as Internet, VOD and phone and optimizing the efficiency of capital investments. The HFC distribution infrastructure is designed with radio frequency ("RF") capacity of up to 1 GHz of bandwidth capacity, depending on the market served and customer needs.

Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline's phone service uses VoIP technology which makes it possible to have a telephone conversation over a dedicated Internet IP network instead of dedicated voice transmission lines. IP networks allow the elimination of circuit switching phone and the associated waste of bandwidth. Instead, packet switching is used, whereby IP packets with voice data are sent over the network only when data needs to be sent, for example when a caller is talking. VoIP's advantages over traditional phone include lower costs per call, especially for long-distance calls, and lower infrastructure costs as, once the IP infrastructure is installed, little or no additional phone infrastructure is needed.

Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline use CableLabs' DOCSIS technology to deliver Internet and business services over HFC networks. DOCSIS has numerous advanced features to ensure a continuous transmission and high quality of service delivery. In addition, this technology provides a flexible and expandable platform to further increase IP transmission speeds and to provide other products such as symmetrical services, which are particularly well suited for commercial customer applications. Cogeco Connexion offers Internet speeds of up to 1 Gbps in approximately 74% of its footprint and at least 120 Mbps in virtually all of its footprint and Breezeline offers up to 1 Gbps Internet speeds to approximately 97% of its footprint of serviceable homes and businesses. Higher speed packages are available to business and on a bespoke basis. Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline intend to continue deploying 1 Gbps speeds in the coming years using the DOCSIS 3.1 technology and selectively deploy DOCSIS 4.0, capable of offering 8 to 10 Gbps download speeds.

3.4. THIRD-PARTY SUPPLIERS

The offering of video service requires the execution of various hardware and software agreements with various third-party suppliers that are renewed from time to time in the normal course of business.

Agreements are in place with TiVo to provide advanced TV services to Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline's customers and with MediaKind to offer Cogeco Connexion's customers the MediaFirst IPTV platform in Canada.

The offering of phone service, which is VoIP service, relies on the support of strategic providers. To that end, Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline have agreements in place with Telus and Net2Phone Cable Telephony, LLC (now a division of IDT), respectively whereby they assist with provisioning capabilities and provide them with switching and termination of traffic to the public switched telephone network, delivery of enhanced Emergency 911 service, local number portability and operator and directory services.

Programming agreements are also in place with various third-party programming suppliers. They are for the most part negotiated in Canada with a small number of large integrated broadcasting distribution and programming groups as well as with a number of independent programming suppliers. In the United States, Breezeline obtains the majority of its programming from the National Cable Television Cooperative ("NCTC"), a national cooperative of cable television service operators that collectively negotiates and administers master affiliation agreements with cable television programming networks on behalf of its member companies. Atlantic Broadband also obtains some programming directly from a number of third-party suppliers.

Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline's businesses also require the execution of contracts with support structure owners, such as phone and electric companies in order to obtain access to their support structures (such as poles, conduits, etc.) and with municipalities to obtain access to the public rights-of-ways, as further described in section 3.7 "Regulatory Regime".

The daily operations are highly dependent on information technology systems and software, including those provided by certain third-party suppliers. Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline have agreements in place, respectively with Netcracker and CSG Systems, Inc. for the provision of products and services related to customer management and billing.

3.5. EMPLOYEES

As at August 31, 2022, the Corporation employed approximately 3,000 individuals in Canada and 1,700 in the United States. Collective bargaining agreements are in place for some employees of the Canadian and American telecommunications segments, which are renewed from time to time in the normal course of business.

3.6. COMPETITIVE CONDITIONS

The industries in which the Corporation operates are very competitive, and the Corporation expects competition to intensify in the future. This competitive environment facing Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline is disclosed in the "Uncertainties and Main Risk Factors" section of the Corporation's 2022 Annual MD&A for the year ended August 31, 2022 which is incorporated herein by reference, as supplemented by the "Uncertainties and Main Risk Factors" section of the Corporation's quarterly reports to shareholders.

3.7. REGULATORY REGIME

The Canadian and American telecommunications operations are subject to extensive and evolving laws, regulations and policies at the federal, provincial, state and local levels. Cogeco Connexion is primarily regulated under the Broadcasting Act (Canada) (the "Broadcasting Act") and the Telecommunications Act (Canada) (the "Telecommunications Act") and regulations thereunder while Breezeline is regulated primarily by the Communications Act of 1934 (United States) (the "Communications Act"). In addition, Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline are both subject to other laws relating to copyright and intellectual property, data protection, privacy of personal information, spam, e-commerce, direct marketing and digital advertising which have become more prevalent in recent years.

3.7.1. CANADA

Video Services

Licensing

In order to provide broadcasting distribution services, broadcasting distribution undertakings ("BDUs") must hold broadcasting licences issued by the CRTC (or operate under an exemption order). Broadcasting licences are issued by the CRTC for a maximum term of seven years and are generally renewed in the normal course of business upon application by the licensee, except in cases of serious breach. The CRTC has never revoked or failed to renew a licence for an active cable system owned by Cogeco Connexion.

Cogeco Connexion holds two regional licences to operate its non-exempt BDUs serving Ontario and Québec. These licences were renewed for a seven-year term starting on September 1, 2018 and ending on August 31, 2025.

BDUs serving fewer than 20,000 customers are exempted from the requirement to hold a licence. The terms and conditions for exempt BDUs are set out in the exemption order for terrestrial broadcasting distribution undertakings serving fewer than 20,000 customers.

Licences issued by the CRTC may not be transferred or assigned. In addition, the prior approval of the CRTC is required for any transaction that results in a change to the effective control of a licensee or that results in the acquisition of 30% or more of the voting shares of a licensed broadcasting undertaking, or of a person having effective control of a licensed broadcasting undertaking.

Carriage and Packaging Rules

BDUs are subject to specific conditions of licence as well as to the general obligations set out in the various applicable regulations (the "Regulations").

Preponderance: BDUs must ensure that the majority (over 50%) of all programming services that they offer to customers are Canadian.

Basic Service: Customers must purchase the basic service of a BDU before subscribing to any digital tiers packages (other than video on demand and pay-per-view). Licensed BDUs are required to offer a mandatory, small entry-level basic service for a price not to exceed $25 comprised only of local and regional television stations, the mandatory services under subsection 9(1)(h) of the Broadcasting Act, as well as the relevant provincial educational services, the community channel and the provincial legislature service in the area served by the BDU. This mandatory small basic service may also include only one set of United States 4 + 1 services (ABC, CBS, Fox, NBC and PBS), local AM and FM stations and educational channels of another province or territory in each official language where there is no designated educational service. Where less than 10 local and regional stations are available, terrestrial BDUs are authorized to include other, non-local or regional Canadian stations. The small basic service may not include any additional services beyond those described above.

Access Rules: BDUs must distribute the national news discretionary services known as CBC News Network, CTV News Channel, Le Canal Nouvelles and Le Réseau de l'information and certain other discretionary services considered of exceptional importance for the broadcasting system, on specific conditions. Licensed BDUs must distribute one minority official language discretionary service for every 10 majority official language services that they distribute.

Carriage of Non-Canadian Programming Services: Other than U.S. stations received over the air at the head end, BDUs can only distribute non-Canadian programming services if they are approved for distribution by the CRTC and placed on the CRTC's Revised list of non-Canadian programming services authorized for distribution.

Packaging Rules: The Regulations require BDUs to offer all discretionary and non-Canadian services in packages of up to 10 programming services. Additionally, all discretionary and non-Canadian services must also be offered on a stand-alone basis.

Accessibility of Set-Top Boxes and Remote Control: The Regulations require BDUs to make available to customers equipment that allows individuals who are blind, visually impaired or have fine motor skill disabilities to have access to programming services if that equipment is available for purchase by the BDU and is compatible with its distribution system.

Over-The-Air Signals

Unlike discretionary services, over-the-air ("OTA") broadcasters are wholly dependent on advertising revenue and copyright royalties and do not charge a subscription fee for their signal.

Vertical Integration

In order to limit the power of vertically integrated entities on the public's access to diverse and quality programming services, the CRTC adopted a Wholesale Code that applies to all BDUs and licensed programming undertakings. The Code prohibits a number of commercially unreasonable practices such as requiring the acquisition of a programming service in order to obtain another (tied-selling) or imposing unreasonable terms that restrict a BDU's ability to provide consumer choice or to offer programming on multiple distribution platforms. A dispute resolution mechanism is provided for the renewal of affiliation agreements in situations where both the BDU and the programming undertaking intend to renew the agreement but are unable to agree on terms. The services cannot be interrupted by either party while such dispute resolution is pending.

Access to Support Structures and Municipal Property

BDUs need access to support structures of telephone companies and hydro electric utilities and to the public rights-of-ways of municipalities to deploy their networks. Access to telephone poles and conduits owned by telecommunications providers is governed by CRTC tariffs and support structure license agreements. Access to support structures of provincial and municipal electric utilities is subject to provincial and municipal requirements, and the terms for access to these structures may need to be obtained through provincial and municipal authorities. Where access to municipal rights of ways in Cogeco Connexion's Canadian footprint cannot be secured, Cogeco Connexion may apply to the CRTC to obtain a right of access under the Telecommunications Act.

Contributions to Canadian Programming and Local Expression

All licensed BDUs are required to allocate 5% of their gross annual revenues derived from broadcasting as follows: 0.3% to the Independent Local News Fund, a further 3.2% to Canadian programming and a maximum of 1.5% to community channels. Exempt BDUs can contribute the full 5% to community channels.

Copyright Licensing

Cable systems are subject to the federal copyright licensing regime covering carriage of television and radio signals. The Copyright Act (Canada) provides for the payment by BDUs of various royalties, notably for the retransmission of distant television and radio signals, and for the communication to the public of dramatico-musical or musical works.

Internet services

The provision of Internet services to retail customers by cable companies is not regulated by the CRTC. The CRTC however requires larger cable companies to provide wholesale third party Internet access service ("TPIA service") to Internet resellers under regulated rates that can be modified from time to time. Several resellers have subscribed to the wholesale TPIA service offered by Cogeco Connexion.

Network capacity and net neutrality

Cogeco Connexion continuously invests in additional network facilities and more network capacity in order to avoid congestion, to the benefit of all its retail and wholesale customers. Additionally, to abide by the requirements of subsection 27(2) of the Telecommunications Act, Cogeco Connexion treats all traffic generated on its network in the same way whether coming from end-users, application providers or third-party Internet service providers.

Voice services

VoIP service

Cogeco Connexion is considered to be a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") and, like all CLECs, is required to fulfill CLEC obligations such as those related to the provision of local number portability, enhanced Emergency 911 capabilities, privacy safeguards, message relay services, directory listings and equal access to interexchange carriers.

Measures established by the CRTC are in place to facilitate IP voice network interconnections between network operators while allowing market forces to shape the details of the arrangements. Specifically, in areas where a carrier provides IP voice interconnection to an affiliate, a division of its operations, or an unrelated service provider, the carrier must negotiate a similar arrangement with any other carrier that requests such an arrangement.

Implementation of CRTC's MVNO Framework for Mobile Services

On April 15, 2021, the CRTC issued Telecom Regulatory Policy 2021-130, Review of mobile wireless services, which aims to provide Canadians with greater mobile choice, better services and affordable prices. Telecom Regulatory Policy 2021-130 mandates the provision of wholesale mobile virtual network operator ("MVNO") access, including seamless roaming, by national mobile carriers (Bell, TELUS, Rogers) and SaskTel, in Saskatchewan, to regional carriers that invest in infrastructure and spectrum. Terms and conditions for the MVNO service are to be approved by the CRTC, while rates are to be commercially negotiated between parties, with final offer arbitration by the CRTC as a last resort.

In August 2021, TELUS was granted leave to appeal the legality of CRTC's seamless roaming mandate, a key component of the MVNO framework, before the Federal Court of Appeal. Cogeco, along with Vidéotron, Eastlink and Xplornet, is opposing the challenge. An adverse decision by the Court could impact the implementation of the CRTC's MVNO framework and make the Corporation's plans to launch mobile services more challenging.

3.7.2. UNITED STATES

In the United States, the operation of a cable system is extensively regulated by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC"), some state governments and most local governments.

Video Services

Franchising

Breezeline is required to obtain a non-exclusive franchise from states where franchises are regulated at the state level or local municipalities in order to use the public rights-of-way and provide cable services. Franchises are granted for a fixed period of time, and federal law prohibits franchise authorities from unreasonably denying renewals. Such franchises may involve the payment of franchise fees, the provision of public, educational and governmental access channels, the provision of institutional networks and free services to municipal buildings, schools and libraries. Franchises also generally require consent of the franchise authority to transfer the franchise in the event of a sale of the cable system. Federal law caps franchise fees at 5% of the gross revenues derived by operators from the provision of cable service within the franchise area. In August 2019, the FCC issued an order requiring that the costs of certain franchise-imposed "in-kind" contributions be included in the 5% franchise fee cap.

Rate Regulation

Currently, Breezeline's products and services are not subject to rate regulation. Federal law allows local franchise authorities to regulate rates for the entry level of video programming services, referred to as "basic service", and related equipment, if franchise authorities can show that there is no "effective competition" for video services in the community. Given the competitive landscape in Breezeline's markets, none of Breezeline's franchise authorities are certified to regulate Breezeline's basic service rates.

Carriage of Broadcast Signals: Must Carry/Retransmission Consent

Federal law prohibits cable operators from carrying local broadcast stations without consent. Under federal "must-carry" regulations, local broadcast stations may require cable operators to carry such stations without compensation. Alternatively, local broadcast stations may require cable operators to engage in "retransmission consent" negotiations, pursuant to which broadcast stations require significant payments and other concessions, in exchange for the right to carry such stations.

Access to Support Structures and Municipal Property

The Communications Act requires telephone and utility companies (other than those owned by municipalities or cooperatives) to provide cable systems with non-discriminatory access to any pole or right-of-way controlled by the utility. The rates that utilities may charge, together with certain terms and conditions for such access are regulated by the FCC, or, alternatively, by states that certify to the FCC that they regulate pole attachments.

Copyright Licensing

Cable operators are subject to a federal compulsory copyright license covering carriage of television and radio broadcast signals, pursuant to which the company files semi-annual statements of account and pays royalty fees. The Copyright Office is currently considering modifications to such royalty payments and reporting obligations.

Internet services

In 2017, the FCC classified broadband internet access service as an information service, rather than a telecommunications service under Title II of the Communications Act (which would subject such service to more onerous regulations). The FCC is expected to reclassify broadband services as telecommunications services under Title II of the Communications Act. Several states have passed or proposed legislation that impose open internet requirements.

Voice service

Traditional voice service is subject to many federal and state regulations that are not applicable to the VoIP service provided by the company. Certain of those regulations, however, do apply to VoIP service, such as Universal Service Fund contribution obligations, local number portability, E911 emergency services, outage reporting, disability access, customer equipment back-up power obligations, rural call completion, Customer Proprietary Network Information (CPNI) privacy rules and the Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act (CALEA).

3.8 RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Some of the recent and on-going legislative, judicial and regulatory developments in Canada and the United States are disclosed in the "Uncertainties and Main Risk Factors" section of the Corporation's 2022 Annual MD&A for the year ended August 31, 2022 which is incorporated herein by reference, as supplemented by the "Uncertainties and Main Risk Factors" section of the Corporation's quarterly reports to shareholders.

3.9 TRADEMARKS

Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline have registered or applied for registration of several trademarks that are used in their business activities, which they regard as having significant value or as being important factors in the marketing of their services.

3.10 CYCLES

The operating results of Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline are not generally subject to material seasonal fluctuations except as follows. The number of Internet and video services customers are generally lower in the second half of the fiscal year as a result of the beginning of the vacation period, the end of the television season, and students leaving their campuses at the end of the school year. Cogeco Connexion and Breezeline offer their services in several towns with educational institutions. In the American telecommunications segment, certain areas are also subject to seasonal fluctuations due to the winter and summer seasons.

4. REORGANIZATIONS

In August 2021 and September 2021, several new intermediate entities as well as one new operating entity were set up with respect to the acquisition of the Ohio broadband systems in the United States on September 1, 2021.

The DERYtelecom acquisition on December 14, 2020 by Cogeco Connexion included the purchase of the shares of 9429-4600 Quebec Inc. which was merged with Cogeco Connexion on August 31, 2021.

On August 31, 2020, Thames Valley Communications Inc. was merged with Atlantic Broadband (CT), LLC.

On August 31, 2020, iTéract Inc. was merged with Cogeco Connexion.

On August 30, 2020, Cogeco Communications Holding Inc. was amalgamated with its wholly owned subsidiary Cogeco Connexion, keeping the later's name and continuing to operate the Canadian telecommunications segment.

In August 2019, several new intermediate entities were set up and others merged as part of the internal financing structure of the US operations.

5. FOREIGN OPERATIONS

The American telecommunications segment activities are carried out by Breezeline in 13 states: Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, as well as in Massachusetts, where it has its head office.

The revenue of the Corporation in the United States represented 50.3% of the consolidated revenue of the Corporation during the fiscal year ended August 31, 2022.

6. RISK FACTORS

The business as conducted by the Corporation involves numerous risks and uncertainties. The main risk factors and uncertainties facing the Corporation are disclosed in the "Uncertainties and Main Risk Factors" section of the Corporation's 2022 Annual MD&A for the year ended August 31, 2022 which is incorporated herein by reference, as supplemented by the "Uncertainties and Main Risk Factors" section of the Corporation's quarterly reports to shareholders. These risks and uncertainties should be considered in conjunction with the other information included in this AIF.

7. DIVIDENDS

The Corporation's quarterly eligible dividends on the multiple voting shares (the "Multiple Shares") and subordinate voting shares (the "Subordinate Shares") have been increasing over the last three fiscal years, from $0.58 per share in fiscal 2020, to $0.64 per share in fiscal 2021, and to $0.705 per share in fiscal 2022.

In accordance with the terms under the Term Revolving Facility of the Corporation, Cogeco Communications is subject to certain restrictions which may restrict its distributions to shareholders including dividends and share repurchases should it fail to achieve certain financial ratios and would not be able to pay dividends or repurchase shares if an event of default has occurred and is continuing.

The declaration, amount and date of any future dividend will continue to be considered and approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation based upon the Corporation's financial condition, results of operations, capital requirements and such other factors as the Board of Directors, at its sole discretion, deems relevant. There is therefore no assurance that dividends will be declared, and if declared, their amount and timing may vary.

8. CAPITAL STRUCTURE

The authorized share capital of the Corporation consists of an unlimited number of Subordinate Shares, Multiple Shares, Class A preference shares (the "Class A shares") and Class B preference shares (the "Class B shares"). As at August 31, 2022, 15,691,100 Multiple Shares and 30,081,467 Subordinate Shares were issued and outstanding. No Class A shares or Class B shares are presently issued and outstanding. The following is a summary of the material characteristics attached to the authorized classes of shares of the capital stock of the Corporation.

8.1. GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STRUCTURE

8.1.1. SUBORDINATE SHARES AND MULTIPLE SHARES

Except for voting rights, Subordinate Shares and Multiple Shares carry and are subject to the same rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions.

Voting Rights

The Subordinate Shares are entitled to one vote per share and the Multiple Shares are entitled to ten votes per share.

Dividends

Subject to the prior rights of the holders of the Class A shares, Class B shares and any other class of shares of the Corporation ranking senior to the Subordinate Shares and Multiple Shares, the holders of Subordinate Shares and Multiple Shares shall be entitled, on a share-for-share basis, to any dividend which, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, may be declared, paid or set aside for payment during any fiscal year with respect to such shares, without preference or distinction between the Subordinate Shares and the Multiple Shares.

Dissolution

The holders of Subordinate Shares and Multiple Shares shall be entitled to share equally in any distribution of the assets of Cogeco Communications upon its liquidation, dissolution or winding-up or other distribution of its assets. Such participation is subject to the rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to any issued and outstanding Class A shares and Class B shares.

Conversion Rights

Each Multiple Share is convertible at any time at the holder's option into one fully paid and non-assessable Subordinate Share.

Rights in the Event of a Take-Over

While, under applicable law, an offer to purchase Multiple Shares would not necessarily result in an offer to purchase Subordinate Shares, the principal shareholder of the Corporation, Cogeco, has entered into a trust agreement for the benefit of the holders of Subordinate Shares under which Cogeco has agreed, among other things, not to sell its Multiple Shares, except in certain circumstances, unless an offer on at least equivalent terms is made to the holders of Subordinate Shares.

8.1.2. CLASS A SHARES

Voting Rights

The Class A shares are not entitled to any voting rights, unless the meeting is called to consider any matter in respect of which the holders of the Class A shares would be entitled to vote separately as a class.

Dividends

The holders of Class A shares are entitled to receive, in priority to the Class B shares, the Subordinate Shares and the Multiple Shares, a cumulative cash dividend at the rate of 11% of the Redemption Amount (as defined in the Articles of the Corporation) per share, per annum payable annually on a date to be determined by the Board of Directors.

Dissolution

The holders of the Class A shares shall be entitled to receive from the assets of the Corporation a sum equivalent to the aggregate Redemption Amount (as defined in the Articles of the Corporation) of all the Class A shares held by them respectively before any amount shall be paid or any assets of the Corporation distributed to the holders of the Class B shares, the Subordinate Shares and the Multiple Shares.

8.1.3. CLASS B SHARES

Series

Class B shares may be issued from time to time in one or more series. The Board of Directors of the Corporation shall be entitled, by resolution, but subject to the provisions of the Canada Business Corporations Act, the provisions in the Articles of the Corporation and the provisions attaching to any series of Class B shares outstanding, to determine, prior to issue, the number of shares of each series of Class B shares and the consideration per share, as well as their designation and the rights, privileges, conditions and restrictions attaching thereto.

Voting Rights

The Class B shares are not entitled to any voting rights, unless the meeting is called to consider any matter in respect of which the holders of the Class B shares would be entitled to vote separately as a class or series.

Dividends

The holders of Class B shares are entitled to receive, after the holders of Class A shares but before the holders of Subordinate Shares and Multiple Shares, a dividend, which dividend may or may not be cumulative and payable in cash or by way of stock dividends or in any other manner not prohibited by the Canada Business Corporations Act.

Dissolution

Subject however to the prior rights of the holders of the Class A shares, the holders of the Class B shares shall be entitled to receive, to the extent provided with respect to each series: (i) an amount equal to the price at which the said shares were issued, (ii) the premium, if any, provided for with respect to the shares of such series, and (iii) in the case of cumulative Class B shares, all unpaid cumulative dividends, and, in the case of non-cumulative Class B shares, all non-cumulative dividends declared but unpaid, before any amount shall be paid or any assets of the Corporation distributed to the holders of the Subordinate Shares and the Multiple Shares.

8.2. CONSTRAINTS ON ISSUE AND TRANSFER OF SHARES

To maintain the eligibility of certain of its subsidiaries that hold licences of the CRTC to operate broadcasting distribution undertakings under the Broadcasting Act, the Corporation must comply with restrictions on ownership of voting shares by non-Canadians that are embodied in a statutory order from the Governor in Council (i.e., the federal Cabinet) to the CRTC under the Broadcasting Act (the "Order"). The Order limits foreign ownership of the Corporation in the aggregate to 33 1/3% of the issued and outstanding voting shares and 33 1/3% of the votes attaching to the voting shares. The Order also requires that the chief executive officer of the Corporation and 80% of the members of the Board of Directors be Canadian. The CRTC retains the discretion under the Order to make a determination that a licensee is not controlled in fact by Canadians.

The Telecommunications Act and its regulations as well as the Radiocommunication Regulations established similar restrictions on ownership of voting shares of telecommunications common carriers and radiocommunication carriers by non-Canadians. These foreign ownership restrictions do not apply however to carriers having less than a 10% share of the total Canadian telecommunications market.

The issue and transfer of the shares of the Corporation are constrained by its Articles in accordance with section 174 of the Canada Business Corporations Act, in order to ensure that the Corporation and its subsidiaries comply with the Order. These restrictions limit the extent to which equity shares can be issued or transferred to non-Canadian residents and preclude control by non-Canadian residents as well as prohibit the voting of equity shares in circumstances in which there is a contravention of the Order, the Broadcasting Act or any conditions of licenses.

The Corporation monitors, through its transfer agent Computershare, the level of non-Canadian ownership with regards to the number of all its issued and outstanding shares and the votes attaching to these shares and annually provides reports to the CRTC. Each subscriber or transferee of any shares of the Corporation is required to supply to Computershare a declaration stating certain facts with respect to citizenship and ownership and control over the shares to enable the Corporation to determine whether the non-Canadian share restrictions are being complied with.

8.3. CREDIT RATINGS

The table below shows Cogeco Communications' and Breezeline's credit ratings by Standard & Poor's, a division of The McGraw Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P"), DBRS Limited ("DBRS") and Moody's Investors Services, Inc. ("Moody's"):

At August 31, 2022	S&P	DBRS	Moody's
Cogeco Communications
Senior Secured Notes and Debentures	BBB-	BBB (low)	NR
Corporate credit issuer default rating	BB+	BB (high)	NR
Breezeline
First Lien Credit Facilities	BB	NR	B1
Corporate credit issuer default rating	BB	NR	B1

NR : Not rated

There is no assurance that a rating will remain in effect for any given period of time or that a rating will not be lowered, withdrawn or revised by either rating agency if, in its judgment, circumstances so warrant. The rating of any debt securities is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold such securities, inasmuch as such ratings do not comment as to market price or suitability for a particular investor.

Cogeco Communications' and Breezeline's ability to access debt capital markets and bank credit markets and the cost and amount of funding available partly depends on the quality of the credit ratings. Credit ratings are subject to change, based on a number of factors including, but not limited to, Cogeco Communications' and ABreezeline's financial strength, competitive position, liquidity and other factors that are not completely within their control, including conditions affecting the telecommunications industry generally, and the wider state of the economy. Any ratings downgrade could result in adverse consequences for Cogeco Communications' funding capacity and access to sources of liquidity and capital. In addition, real or anticipated changes in the rating assigned to a security will generally affect the market value of that security.

Ratings for long-term debt instruments range from AAA (S&P and DBRS) or Aaa (Moody's), representing the highest quality of securities rated, to D (S&P and DBRS) and C (Moody's) for the lowest quality of securities rated. Investment-grade credit ratings are generally considered to range from BBB- (S&P and DBRS) or Baa3 (Moody's) to AAA (S&P and DBRS) or Aaa (Moody's) and their cost of funding is typically lower relative to ratings below investment grade.

The DBRS long-term debt rating scale provides an opinion on the risk of default; that is, the risk that an issuer will fail to satisfy its financial obligations in accordance with the terms under which an obligation has been issued. Ratings are based on quantitative and qualitative considerations relevant to the issuer and the relative ranking of claims. A rating of BBB by DBRS is the fourth highest of ten categories and is assigned to debt securities considered to be of adequate credit quality. The capacity for the payment of financial obligations is considered acceptable, but the entity may be vulnerable to future events. The assignment of a "(high)" or "(low)" modifier within certain rating categories indicates relative standing within such category. The absence of either a "high" or "low" designation indicates the rating is in the middle of the category.

Moody's long-term debt ratings are assigned to issuers or obligations with an original maturity of one year or more and reflect both on the likelihood of a default or impairment on contractual financial obligations and the expected financial loss suffered in the event of default or impairment. A rating of B by Moody's is the sixth highest of nine categories and denotes obligations considered to be speculative and subject to high credit risk. The addition of a 1, 2 or 3 modifier after a rating indicates the relative standing within a particular rating category. The modifier 1 indicates that the issue ranks in the higher end of its generic rating category, the modifier 2 indicates a mid-range ranking and the modifier 3 indicates that the issue ranks in the lower end of its generic rating category.

S&P's long-term debt credit rating scale provides a forward-looking opinion of the creditworthiness of a company in meeting a specific financial obligation, a specific class of financial obligations or a specific financial program. It takes into consideration the likelihood of payment; that is, the capacity and willingness of the company to meet its financial commitment on an obligation according to the terms of the obligation, among other factors. A rating of BBB by S&P is the fourth highest of ten major categories. According to the S&P rating system, the obligor has adequate capacity to meet its financial commitments. However, adverse economic conditions or changing circumstances are more likely to lead to a weakened capacity of the obligor to meet its financial commitments. A rating of BB by S&P is the fifth highest of ten major categories. According to the S&P rating system, the obligor is considered less vulnerable in the near-term but faces major ongoing uncertainties to adverse business, financial and economic conditions. The addition of a plus (+) or minus (-) designation after a rating indicates the relative standing within a particular rating category.

In the past two years, Cogeco Communications has paid fees to rating agencies to obtain and maintain ratings and expects to pay similar fees in the future pursuant to service agreements entered into with such rating agencies. In the past two years, Cogeco Communications also paid fees to a credit rating organization for an information service other than a credit rating service.

All debt securities have been issued in series and certain series are redeemable at Cogeco Communications' option prior to maturity at the prices, times and conditions specified for each series. In addition, Cogeco Communications is required, under certain conditions, to make (or arrange for a third party to make) an offer to repurchase certain series of its debt securities upon the occurrence of both a "Change of Control" and a "Ratings Event" or "Rating Decline" relating to the relevant series of debt securities (as each such term is defined in the terms and conditions of the relevant series of debt securities), at a price equal to 101% of the outstanding principal amount thereof (or in certain cases, 100% of the outstanding principal amount plus the applicable make-whole amount), plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of purchase.

15.1 CHARTER

PURPOSE

Financial reporting and disclosure by Cogeco Communications Inc. represents a major aspect of the management of the Corporation's global business and affairs.

The Board is responsible to oversee financial reporting and disclosure of the Corporation.

To assist the Board of Directors in its monitoring of the Corporation's consolidated financial reporting and disclosure, the Board of Directors has established a committee of the Board of Directors known as the Audit Committee for the purpose of overseeing the accounting and financial reporting processes and audits of the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation.

The purpose of the Board of Directors' oversight of the Corporation's financial reporting and disclosure is to gain reasonable assurance, through the Audit Committee, that the following objectives are being met:

- (a) that the Corporation and its subsidiaries comply with all applicable laws, regulations, rules, policies and other requirements of governments, regulatory agencies and stock exchanges relating to financial reporting and disclosure;
- (b) that the accounting policies and practices, significant judgments and disclosures which underlie or are incorporated in the Corporation's consolidated financial statements are the most appropriate in the prevailing circumstances;
- (c) that the Corporation's quarterly and annual consolidated financial statements present fairly the Corporation's financial position and performance in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS");
- (d) that there is an effective system of internal controls and that the evaluation and testing of the internal controls are appropriate to cover significant risks and are comprehensive, coordinated and cost effective; and
- (e) that financial information in public disclosure documents has been reviewed and that appropriate information concerning the financial position and performance of the Corporation is disseminated to the public in a timely manner.

Although the Audit Committee has the powers and responsibilities set forth in this Charter, the role of the Audit Committee is oversight. The members of the Audit Committee are not full-time employees of the Corporation and may or may not be accountants or auditors by profession and, in any event, do not serve in such capacity. Consequently, it is not the duty of the Audit Committee to conduct audits or to determine that the Corporation's consolidated financial statements and disclosures are complete and accurate, and in accordance with IFRS and applicable rules and regulations. These are the responsibilities of senior Management, the External Auditors and other specialists retained by the Corporation.

COMPOSITION AND QUALIFICATION

The Audit Committee is appointed annually by the Board of Directors and consists of a minimum of three Directors from among the Directors of the Corporation. Every Audit Committee member must be independent, as defined in, and in compliance with, National Instrument 52-110 ("NI 52-110") and subject to the independence exemptions provided for therein.

The members of the Audit Committee are appointed at the first meeting after the annual meeting of the shareholders, or at any other meeting if a vacancy arises. The Board of Directors appoints one of the members of the Audit Committee each year as its Chair.

Subject to the exemptions provided for in NI 52-110, all members of the Audit Committee should be "financially literate" and, as such, able to read and understand a set of financial statements that present a breadth and level of complexity of accounting issues that are generally comparable to the breadth and complexity of the issues that can reasonably be expected to be raised by the Corporation's consolidated financial statements.

In contributing to the Audit Committee's discharging of its duties under this mandate, each member of the Audit Committee shall be entitled to rely in good faith upon:

- (a) Consolidated financial statements of the Corporation represented to him or her by the President and Chief Executive Officer ("President and CEO") or Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") of the Corporation or in a written report of the External Auditors to present fairly the consolidated financial position of the Corporation in accordance with IFRS; and
- (b) any report of a lawyer, accountant, engineer, appraiser or other person whose profession lends credibility to a statement made by any such person.

In contributing to the Audit Committee's discharging of its duties under this mandate, each member of the Audit Committee shall be obliged only to exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. Nothing in this mandate is intended, or may be construed, to impose on any member of the Audit Committee a standard of care or diligence that is in any way more onerous or extensive than the standard to which all members of the Board of Directors are subject. The essence of the Audit Committee's duties is monitoring and reviewing to gain reasonable assurance (but not to ensure) that the fundamental accounting and reporting activities are being conducted effectively, that the financial reporting and disclosure objectives are being met and that a proper system of internal controls is in place, so as to report accordingly to the Board of Directors. These duties extend to evaluating and, where appropriate, recommending replacement of the External Auditors.

OPERATING PRINCIPLES AND GUIDELINES

The Audit Committee fulfills its responsibilities within the context of the following principles and guidelines:

- (a) The Committee Chair and the other Audit Committee members have direct, open and frank communications throughout the year with senior Management, other committee chairs and Board members, the External Auditors, the Vice President, Internal Audit and other key committee advisors as applicable.

- (e) The Committee communicates its expectations to senior Management, the Vice President, Internal Audit and the External Auditors with respect to the nature, timing and extent of its information needs. The Committee expects that written materials will be received from senior Management, the Vice President, Internal Audit and the External Auditors and posted on the electronic portal of the Corporation one week in advance of meeting dates for all the topics on the agenda.
- (f) The External Auditor's ultimate responsibility is to the Board of Directors through the Audit Committee, as representatives of the shareholders. The External Auditors must report directly to the Audit Committee.
- (g) The Committee may engage independent counsel or other advisors in addition to the External Auditors, which the Committee determines are necessary to carry out its duties, at the expense of the Corporation and after consultation with senior Management.
- (h) At each regular scheduled meeting of the Committee, the Committee members meet in private sessions among themselves only to ensure free and open discussion; with the External Auditors only; with the Vice President, Internal Audit only; and with representatives of senior Management only.
- (i) The Committee, through its Chair, reports after each Committee meeting to the Board of Directors at its next regular meeting or earlier if required.
- (j) The Audit Committee meets at least four times per year on a quarterly basis and holds special meetings as circumstances require. The timing of the meetings, and calling of and procedure at meetings, are determined by the Committee, provided that:
 - (i) at all Audit Committee meetings a majority of the members shall constitute a quorum; and
 - (ii) the acts of the Audit Committee at a duly constituted meeting require no more than the vote of a majority of the members present and that, in any circumstances, a resolution or other instrument in writing signed by all members of the Audit Committee shall avail as the act of the Audit Committee.

The CFO of the Corporation, the Vice President, Internal Audit of the Corporation, the Vice President, Finance of the Corporation and the External Auditors usually attend all Audit Committee meetings.
