THE COGECO GROUP

Cogeco Inc. is a diversified holding corporation in the field of telecommunications and media that owns and operates the following corporate entities:

- Cogeco Communications Inc. provides a wide range of products and services through different subsidiaries and/or names:
    - Cogeco Connexion Inc., operating in Québec and Ontario, provides residential and business customers with Internet, video, telephony and wireless services.
        - See Cogeco Connexion Inc. Privacy Policy for more information regarding the treatment of your personal information.
    - Breezeline, operating in the United States, provides residential and business customers with Internet, video and telephony services.
        - See Breezeline Privacy Policy for more information regarding the treatment of your personal information.
    - Oxio, operating in Québec, Ontario and western provinces, provides internet services to its customers.
        - See Oxio Privacy Policy for more information regarding the treatment of your personal information.
- Cogeco Media Inc. and its affiliates, operates radio stations in Québec and Ontario (listed here) and the Cogeco Nouvelles' private news radio agency, as well as produces and markets a wide variety of audio content.
        - See Cogeco Media Privacy Policy for more information regarding the treatment of your personal information.

Cogeco Inc. and the corporate entities listed above are part of the Cogeco Group and, as such, subject to the Corporate Privacy Commitment.

Last update: August 2024